Week-long Palace tourist guide training begins

Conducted for the first time to enhance overall tourist experience

Mysuru, May 23 (RK&BCT)- For the first time in the tourism history of Mysuru, a week-long training programme for Palace tourist guides began on the Mysore Palace Board premises this morning.

The training programme is being organised by the Mysore Palace Board and the Karnataka State Open University (KSOU). Subject matter experts, resource persons and historians will hold sessions for the guides.

The intent behind launching this programme is to enhance the overall experience of tourists who visit the Mysore Palace which will in turn lead to the flourishing of the tourism and hospitality industry. The training programme aims to make Mysuru a tourist-friendly place and also to create a pool of trained tourist guides to showcase the best.

Some of the topics that are included in the training are the political history of the Wadiyars of Mysore — early phase, middle phase and modern middle phase, the story of the Mysore Palace (Palace Fort, Old Palace, Wooden Palace — new Palace — specialities, expenditure, art and architecture), pavilions and paintings of Amba Villas Palace, Durbar Hall, temples inside the Palace Fort, performing arts, cultural activities in the Palace, human relations for guides and dress code.

(See GUIDE on page 7)

Titular head of erstwhile Mysore royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar speaking at the inauguration of tourist guides training at Mysore Palace Board premises in city this morning as (from left) historian and columnist Dr. S.V. Ranganath, KSOU VC Prof S. Vidyashankar, Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya and KSOU's DoS in Ancient History and Archaeology Chairman Dr. Shalvapille Iyengar look on.

KSOU offers audio-visual studio to promote Mysore Palace

Addressing the guides and others at the event, KSOU Vice-Chancellor Prof. S. Vidyashankar offered the institution's audio-visual studio for the tourist guides and the Palace authorities to publicise more about the Palace and its glorious history.

"Now KSOU students can watch videos of study materials and lectures in the comforts of their homes and need not depend on any other source for learning. We can use the same facility to disseminate information, videos and literature about the Palace. This way we can draw global tourists to Mysuru and we can make use of the regal glory for that," he said.

Natural solution to malaria: Breed fish to feed on larvae

Health Department launches district-wide plan; 120 water-storing open tanks set up

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, May 23- Destroying mosquito larvae with the help of fish is not only environmentally friendly but an effective measure too. Mysuru malaria control authorities are increasingly resorting to a method introduced by the British in 1908 to check the disease: Rearing fish that feed on mosquito larvae.

Already, water-storing fish tanks have been established in 120 places and work is on to set up 15 more such tanks at all Primary Health Centres (PHC), Community Health Centres and Government Hospitals across the district. One such tank has been set up at Nazarbad PHC.

Taking into account all the biocontrol agents, larvivorous fish are widely used in vector control. Among various breeding sources, wells, ponds and streams were the main breeding habitats of malaria mosquitoes. "We thought that this is the best way to control the mosquito breeding and decided to implement it across the district," District Vector-Borne Diseases Control and Food Control Officer Dr. Chidambara told SOM.

Generally, Gambusia affinis, or mosquito-fish, can be released in the ditch, pond or any water body in the neighbourhood where mosquito larvae germinate. Gambusia would finish off larvae over 40 times its body weight in a day.

"Each water tank will cost Rs. 15,000 and the grants have been released from the respective Arogya Raksha Committee of the PHC," he said.

The National Vector-Borne Diseases Control Programme of the Union Ministry of Health encourages the use of the larva-fish or mosquito-fish to control the mosquito population and even the World Health Organisation has advocated its use in countries which continue to be affected by diseases like malaria.

As Gambusia can be cultured along with other edible fish without any impact on the local fish population, there are plans to release them in over 2,880 water bodies in the district including over 480 lakes, wells, ponds and agricultural ponds (krishi honda), Dr. Chidambara added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Modi's speech in Lumbini sought to highlight the strong cultural ties between the two countries, which already share a special relationship, cemented by the Treaty of Peace and Friendship signed in 1950. There are several irritants that have developed, straining this relationship, and for now there seems to be a concerted attempt by both regimes to return to bonhomie, with the Indian Government seeking to utilise "religious diplomacy" as a means to emphasise the special relationship. But there have been significant changes in Nepal's political-economy, in particular a substantial reduction in the Nepali youths' dependence on the Indian economy as compared to the past. Beyond a soft power emphasis on cultural ties, India-Nepal relations need to graduate to a more meaningful partnership on economic and geopolitical issues, with the Indian Government continuing to retain a substantial role in partnering the Nepali regime in development projects. The challenge is to utilise the return of bonhomie in ties to refocus on work related to infrastructure development in Nepal, which includes hydropower projects, transportation and connectivity, and which could benefit the citizens of the adjoining States in India as well. Symbolism, after all, is useful only to a certain extent. — In The Hindu

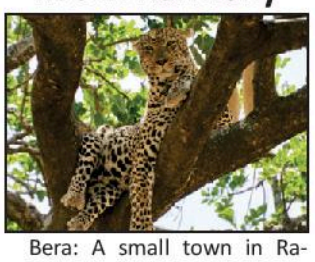
A town where humans, leopards live in harmony



Bera: A small town in Rajasthan State named Bera is famous for reportedly being the only place on Earth where humans and leopards live in perfect harmony.

With human expansion at peak levels and the number of leopards higher than they've been in decades, tensions between the two species are growing. But there's one place where humans and leopards have allegedly been living in peace and harmony for at least a century. Known as 'leopard country,' the town of Bera is said to contain the highest concentration of leopards on the planet.

Dheeraj Mali, a Bera wildlife photojournalist who has been documenting the local leopards for years, believes that the big cats in the area have also adapted to human presence, and have gradually become less predatory toward them.

Woman stretches her earlobes to hold selfie stick

Tokyo: A Japanese woman has been compared to The Incredibles' Elastigirl because of her ability to stretch her earlobes enough to wrap them around things like umbrellas or selfie sticks.

Ayumi Takada, a 37-year-old woman from Tokyo, first noticed that her earlobes were super-elastic when she was in elementary school. It was a rainy day, and her hands were full, so she tried holding the umbrella with her ear as a third hand and it worked. That was only the beginning, as the Japanese woman has since used her unusually stretchy ear lobes to hold selfie sticks, calligraphy brushes and others.

Ayumi's elastic earlobes can stretch up to 4.5 centimetres, allowing her to wrap them around various objects and hold them into place. Her ability can come in handy when both her hands are full. And stretching the earlobes, she claims it's actually painless.

REALLY...?

- All kangaroos are herbivores, grazing mainly on grasses but also some moss, shrubs and fungi. Similar to cattle and other ruminant animals, kangaroos sometimes regurgitate their food and chew it as cud before digesting it.
- Unique to kangaroos is a self-cooling system in which they lick their arms and the moisture from their saliva cools the blood in small vessels just beneath the skin. This helps kangaroos regulate their body temperatures in Australia, where 90-degree summer days are common.

Roads re-asphalted

but soil debris on either side block rain water

Sir,

Many roads are being re-asphalted but the contractors concerned have not cleared the soil heaps on either sides to allow free flow of rain water into the road side drains. This is resulting in stagnation of rain water on the asphalted road.

Standing water damages the asphalted road resulting in potholes. As it is, the rain water at many places has damaged new as well as old roads which were in good condition.

I request the authorities to engage men or JCB to check for stagnant water on road and make way for this water to enter road side drain by excavating cross drain wherever required.

I also request the Engineers to make provision for debris clearance in road asphalting estimates to execute work properly.

Nagamangala farmer's murder: Villagers stage stir demanding suspension of PSI

Nagamangala, May 23 (Mahesh)- Accusing the police of negligence and irresponsibility in the murder case of farmer N.R. Mohan of Naragalu village in the taluk, who was kidnapped and murdered on May 15 for not letting his farmland for mining activities, family members of the deceased Mohan and villagers of Naragalu staged a massive stir by keeping the body of Mohan near a stone quarry at Kenchagonahalli village on Sunday, demanding the suspension of Bindiganavile PSI Sridhar.

N.R. Mohan, a farmer of Naragalu village was allegedly kidnapped in a Maruti Omni van and strangulated to death by Tamil Nadu based Miner Raju and his associate Kumar of Naragalu village, when he went to his farmland to herd his cattle back to home on the afternoon of May 15. Mohan's body which was buried by the accused in a village in Holenarasipur taluk, was exhumed on Saturday in the presence of Holenarasipur Tahsildar.

As the crowd at the stir site (Kenchagonahalli) swelled with each passing hour and with the protestors insisting that the last rites of the deceased Mohan will not be conducted until the PSI was suspended, the Police tightened security at the spot and as well at other villages in the vicinity. Tension and commotion prevailed at the spot for some time as the protestors argued with the police and local political leaders, questioning them on their failure to take action against what they claimed illegal mining in the area. MLA Suresh Gowda and former Minister Cheluvarayaswamy too visited the village and tried to pacify the agitated protestors, who also included members of Dalit Sangharsha Samiti (DSS).

Urging the police to arrest all the accused and suspend Bindiganavile PSI Sridhar for his negligence, the protestors remained unmoved despite several attempts by the Police and Local political leaders to convince them. Thereafter, MLA Suresh Gowda along with Additional SP Venugopal held talks with the protestors later in the afternoon. Following assurance from ASP Venugopal that the PSI Sridhar will be suspended in a couple of days, the villagers withdrew their stir and also agreed to conduct the last rites of the deceased Mohan, with a warning that they would again stage a stir in front of the SP Office at Mandya if no action on their demand is taken, as promised by the authorities.

Mohan's last rites were conducted amid tears and sorrowful scenes at the space adjacent to the farmland of one of the murder accused Kumar, at Naragalu late in the evening yesterday.

Unusual day-long Sunday rush at Chamundi Hill

More than 15,000 people visit Temple; traffic clears only after 6 pm; all parking places full

Mysuru, May 23 (SBD&BCT)- Thousands of devotees thronged Chamundi Hill yesterday and there was bumper-to-bumper traffic for long stretches till evening. Vehicles ascended the Hill from early in the morning and the lucky few got space in the multi-level parking lot and those vehicles that came after 11 am were stranded on the roads.

The situation improved only after 6 pm when many started clearing their vehicles from the parking lot. The weekends and festival season usually sees extra rush. But yesterday, thanks to cool weather and clear skies, many decided to go to the Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop the Chamundi Hill.

This resulted in traffic snarls from the View Point where people had to patiently wait for the vehicles to move. As the multi-level parking that can accommodate over 800 vehicles became full in no time,

SUNDAY'S COLLECTION
Rs. 100 ticket	Rs. 5,97,600
Rs. 30 ticket	Rs. 1,07,490
Parking charges	Rs. 1,30,930
Total	Rs. 8,36,020

parking was allowed in Devikere premises. Soon, this place too became full and many were forced to park their vehicles by the side of the road and walk towards the Temple.

TOUGH TIME FOR ELDERLY

Only people residing in the Chamundi Hill Gram Panchayat limits and the people connected to the Temple administration are allowed to go beyond the multi-level parking lot barricade. Usually, the elderly and the disabled are allowed inside by the guards. But yesterday, even the elderly and the disabled found it tough to enter the temple premises.

On a normal day, it takes just a few minutes to reach the Temple parking gate from the View Point. But yesterday it took more than 30 minutes to traverse the same distance. The Police and the guards appointed by the Temple Management Committee had a tough time in regulating the traffic.

Further, as there was heavy rush inside the Temple it took hours for the vehicles to clear from the parking lot as the devotees had to finish their Darshan and then come out to take their vehicles. Yesterday, more than 15,000 people visited the Temple and the overall collection from the special entry tickets stood at Rs. 7,05,090. In addition, there were long-winding queues in the free Darshan routes.

The parking fee at the multi-level parking lot and Devikere too yielded good income as two-wheelers had to pay Rs. 10, cars, SUVs and jeeps Rs. 40, tempo travellers Rs. 60 and buses Rs. 100. In all, Rs. 1,30,930 was collected, Chamundeshwari Temple Administrative Officer N.S. Yathiraj Sampathkumaran told Star of Mysore.

NIGHT CITY VIEW

Traffic began clearing only in the evening and the situation was under control after 6 pm. There was an unusual rush in the morning as people usually prefer their first visit to the Temple before heading out to other tourist attractions in Mysuru. But yesterday's situation was special as there was a day-long rush at the Temple.

As darkness descended, many vehicles stopped by at the View Point to capture the beauty of the ever-expanding Mysuru. Many recollected the visuals of Dasara lightings. Last night's visuals were not as special as during Dasara but they enthused the crowd who rejoiced on the view point platforms, clicking selfies.

I am confident of getting a good response for our efforts to attract investments into the State," he said. The sessions were beginning from Monday itself, the Chief Minister pointed out.

Inaugurating the training programme, the titular head of the erstwhile Mysore royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar said that a majority of tourists come to Mysuru to see the Mysore Palace and this iconic structure is the must-visit itinerary of all tourists. "In such a scenario, the responsibilities of guides play a crucial role. Guides must stick to facts and must not deviate from the original history," he said.

Be faithful to history

"History cannot be altered and guides must not sell distorted history while taking the tourists around the Palace. What information you give reaches the entire world and as such, the information must be truthful and factual without any exaggeration," Yaduveer noted.

While many other historical monuments have past history, the Mysore Palace has a history that is alive and kicking and traditions are being diligently followed without any violation even in the times of natural disasters, he said and asked the guides to update themselves on the history so that they can disseminate authentic history, without any deviation.

"Do not digress from facts and stick to the training you have been provided. One small factual error will be damaging to Mysuru and it will sully the image of this great city that has come to us through inheritance," he said.

Mysore Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya, KSOU's Department of Studies in Ancient History and Archaeology Chairman Dr. Shalvapille Iyengar, Member of Heritage Conservation Committee, Government of Karnataka and Convener of INTACH, Mysuru Chapter Prof. N.S. Rangaraju, historian and columnist Dr. S.V. Ranganath and resource person L.N. Swamy were present.

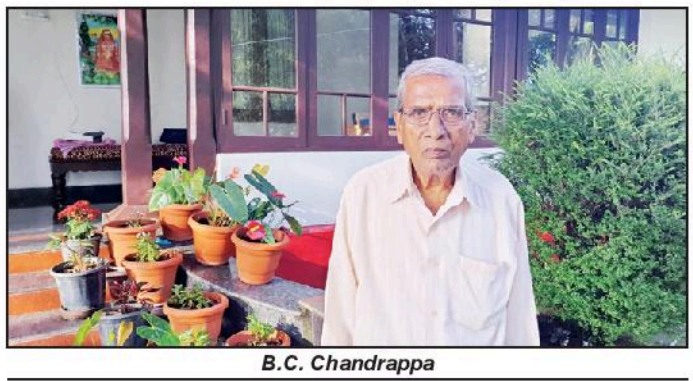
Kodagu DC's father comes in a KSRTC bus to visit his son

Travelling for over eight hours from Shivamogga, retired teacher displays simplicity



B.C. Chandrappa

Dr. B.C. Satish

Madikeri, May 23 (Akshay & DM)- At a time when family members of high-ranking officers do not shy away from using official vehicles of their sons or daughters for long trips at the expense of taxpayers' money, the father of Kodagu Deputy Commissioner (DC) travelled in an ordinary KSRTC bus from his native in Shivamogga to meet his son in Madikeri.

Eighty-two-year-old B.C. Chandrappa, father of Kodagu DC Dr. B.C. Satish travelled in the KSRTC bus for over eight hours despite his age. After reaching Madikeri, he walked to his son's official residence with a small bag in his hand and told the gate-guarding Policemen that he was the DC's father.

The shocked Cop could not believe it and went along with Chandrappa and informed Dr. Satish about his father's arrival. The DC's father had not informed his son and his surprise visit brought a broad smile on Dr. Satish's face. He cordially invited him inside.

Hailing from a humble background, Dr. Satish took charge as Kodagu DC in October 2021. He had earlier worked as the Assistant Commissioner in Belagavi, Bailhongal and Kumta, CEO of Dharwad Zilla Panchayat and as the DC of Raichur.

Chandrappa is a retired teacher and after retirement, he is looking after his six-acre arecanut farm in Shivamogga. He is fitted with a heart stent and he also underwent a knee surgery. Despite his health condition, he did not claim any facility the Government offered to his DC son.

By not utilising his son's powers as the DC, Chandrappa, who as a teacher earlier having taught thousands of students on the values and virtues of life, is an ideal example for others to follow. Madikeri Akashavani Programme Head Dr. Vijay Angadi said that as the father of a DC, Chandrappa was a model to others. "I came to know of DC's father's visit to Madikeri when I went to the DC's residence for talks regarding Akashavani programmes on May 19. Hats off to his humbleness," Vijay said.

Subramanyeshwara Swamy Temple at Siddalingapura getting a makeover

Devotee from Tamil Nadu funding project to construct a stone Gopura behind facade

Mysuru, May 23 (BCT)- The famed Sri Subramanyeshwara Swamy Temple at Siddalingapura on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway is getting a major makeover and a stone Gopura will be built in the coming days. The foundation has already been laid but continuous rain is playing a spoilsport.

The annual fair of the Temple or Subramanya Shashti Jatra Mahotsava and Rathotsava is usually held in December where thousands of devotees, braving the early morning chill, throng the temple to have a darshan of the snake-headed God. The temple authorities bring the six-foot tall Nagabharana from the District Treasury for the devotees to worship.

Chief Priest of the Temple M.V. Subramanya told Star of Mysore that an imposing structure of the temple or the Gopura will come up right behind the original façade that faces the Highway. "A devotee from Tamil Nadu had made a vow at this Temple and he has been immensely benefited by this. He offered to construct the stone Gopura and he is funding the entire project and the other minor expenses are being taken care of by the Temple management," the Priest said.

The earlier structure behind the façade has been demolished and a wider space has been created for the Gopura to stand tall. "We have not touched the 'moola sthana' or the original place of the anthill (considered sacred) and we have covered it with iron so that no damage occurs to it," he said.

Subramanya is expecting the Gopura and other works to be completed by November for a grand Subramanya Shashti in December. "But the rain is spoiling the work. The foundation has been laid and the concrete works are on in full swing for the Gopura. Stone works will start soon after the rain stops. Already 25 bags of cement have been destroyed by relentless rain," he said.

Once the Gopura is constructed, the Temple will have a grand look. Moreover, in 2020 the defunct 'Kalyani' (Temple Pond) adjacent to the Temple was rejuvenated by Namma Mysuru Foundation. The area around Kalyani, which was completely covered with wild growth of bushes and weeds, was cleaned and the 21 steps were restored. Silt was removed from the water body and all the water entry points to the Kalyani were cleared of any blockages.

Yoga rehearsals begin aiming at a mega show

Preparations underway for Guinness World Record with 2 lakh yoga practitioners

Yoga enthusiasts rehearsing at Maharaja College Grounds in city yesterday.

Mysuru, May 23 (RKB&SSM)- Following the confirmation of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's lead-participation in the International Day of Yoga (IDY) on June 21 in the city, various yoga schools and institutions, under the banner of Mysuru Yoga Federation, conducted a rehearsal of yoga at Maharaja College Grounds in city yesterday.

Over 150 master trainers in the common yoga protocol participated in the brainstorming rehearsal session which was launched by MLA S.A Ramdas.

The rehearsals were held with the aim of setting a Guinness World Record with over 2 lakh yoga enthusiasts performing yoga on IDY on June 21. The rehearsal entailed dhyana, pranayama and practising the various postures stipulated in the common protocol. About 500 teachers are being trained as master trainers who will later impart training to thousands of yoga enthusiasts across Mysuru.

Starting today, the trainers will visit schools and other institutions to train those interested in being a part of the event. The rehearsals for the IDY will be held every Sunday. The session on May 29 will be held at Suttur Mutt in the presence of Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji.

Later, the sessions will be held at different venues on different days: June 5 at Mysore Palace, June 12 and 19 at Mysore Race Course Grounds.

Speaking on the occasion, Ramdas said that Mysuru has a great potential in all the sectors — from bank note printing hub to yoga, heritage, medical, meditation, tourism, hospitality etc. PM Modi's participation in the IDY will also help the entire region to flourish and the city will be a host to international audiences, he said.

Stating that the announcement of the PM's visit to city has created a festive mood, Ramdas said, "Every effort must be made and preparations must be done in such a way that 2 lakh yoga enthusiasts including small children and elders must fill all roads from Mysore Palace to Chamundi Hill," he added.

Yoga Federation of Mysore President and GSS Foundation Head D. Srihari said that the PM's visit to Mysuru is a result of constant and dedicated efforts for eight years. "There was a Guinness World Record of Mass Yoga in 2017. This year all preparations are being made to break this and create a new record."

Mysuru earned a place in the Guinness Book of World Records, in the largest yoga lesson category. With 55,506 participants, the city officially entered the Records Book for the largest gathering at a single venue on June 21, 2017 on the occasion of IDY.

AYUSH Mysuru District Officer Dr. B.S. Seethalakshmi, University of Mysore Physical Education Department Director P. Krishnaiah, Ramdev Patanjali Institution's Sashikumar, Patanjali Yoga Foundation's Satyanarayana, Gopalakrishna and others were present.

For PM's Yoga Day visit...

In a bid to keep the route of Prime Minister Narendra Modi clean and tidy as the PM is scheduled to participate in International Day of Yoga (IDY) celebrations in Mysuru on June 21 and also as a security measure, the staff of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) cleared numerous petty shops that were conducting business opposite to the APMC Yard in Bandipalya on Mysuru-Nanjangud Road using earth-excavating machines this morning and levelled the ground.

Manipal Hospital - Mysuru creates awareness on 'Lupus disease'

Mysuru, May 23- Manipal Hospital, Mysuru, took an initiative and organised an awareness programme on lupus disease, where a group of 40 participants assembled to share their experience of facing and living with autoimmune disease.

The programme was conducted recently at the hospital and it was a patient-focused event to increase awareness about the incurable autoimmune disease lupus among affected individuals and people having similar symptoms.

In this disease, body's own immune system affects the skin, kidney, heart, blood cells and lungs, etc. which can only be managed with medication but cannot be cured. Many patients came forward and expressed their journey with lupus disease.

Dr. Sangeetha, Consultant Rheumatologist, Manipal Hospital, Mysuru, believes that people should significantly strengthen their knowledge of how their body functions. The doctor emphasised and gave an overview of the incurable chronic autoimmune disease lupus.

Lupus is caused due to disrupted immune system attacking bodies own cells. She also educated the patients about the consequences of neglecting the symptoms that may affect all the other organs in the body and lead to life-threatening conditions.

People were advised to pay attention to the butterfly-shaped rash, appearing on the cheeks and nasal bridge predominantly, which worsens on exposure to the sun, as it is the earlier sign of the autoimmune disease lupus in most patients.

The doctor further inculcated the patients about the treatment and avoiding exposure to the sun, avoidance of consumption of oestrogen-containing contraceptive pills, smoking and stress.

Steroids, Hydroxychloroquine, Immunomodulators and immunosuppressants in case of life-threatening diseases, calcium, aspirin and Vitamin-D supplements form major part of the treatment for lupus.

Patients suffering from lupus shared their experiences and motivated each other on the journey of unexpected disease conditions. Their experiences were full of adversity and pain during hope and determination to triumph over frightening the odds.

The programme elevated the patient's spirit to live a normal life and they felt that they were not alone in the battle of life. Patients expressed themselves openly without any hindrance and supported each other on the journey.

Patients and their family members were taken on a hospital tour to introduce them to the state-of-the-art facilities on par with global standards.

Lupus can be genetic but earlier detection and treatment helps in the management of the disease. There is hope, as people are living and managing lupus for more than 40 years of their life. A thorough understanding of the disease may help people to manage it well and increase their life expectancy. The programme was a grand success as patients actively participated and left with elevated spirits.

WORD OF THE DAY

Verdant

Pronunciation: VER-dunt.
Meaning: Verdant means "green in tint or colour," "green with growing plants," or "unripe in experience or judgment."
Origin: English speakers have been using verdant as a ripe synonym of green since at least the 16th century, and as a descriptive term for inexperienced or naïve people since the 19th century. (By contrast, the more experienced green has colored our language since well before the 12th century, and was first applied to inexperienced people in the 16th century.) Verdant comes from the Old French word for "green," vert, which itself is from Latin virēre, meaning "to show green growth" or "to be green." Today, vert is used in English as a word for green forest vegetation and the heraldic color green. A related word is virescent, meaning "beginning to be green."
Example: "Vermont is famous for its verdant summer landscapes and postcard-worthy fall colors. But it's the Green Mountain State's winter landscape that truly sparks my photographic eye." — Caleb Kenna

THE ODD WORD

Vainglory

Idle boastfulness.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Variety is the spice of life

Meaning: When you use the phrase 'Variety is the spice of life' you mean that doing a lot of different things and interacting with all sorts of people, etc. is a way to make life more interesting.
Origin: The phrase 'variety is the spice of life' was first seen in 1785, in William Cowper's poem The Task: "Variety is the very spice of life, that gives it all its flavour."
Example: "I know we usually spend summers at the beach, but I'm thinking we should try camping. After all, variety is the spice of life."

QUOTE BOX

If you want to live a happy life, tie it to a goal, not to people or things.

IPL-2022: Punjab finishes sixth

Mumbai, May 23- The Punjab Kings (PBKS) concluded their Indian Premier League (IPL) 2022 campaign with a 5-wicket victory over the Sunrisers Hyderabad (SRH) on Sunday at the Wankhede Stadium in Mumbai.

Needing 158 to win, PBKS chased down the total with 29 balls and five wickets to spare. Jonny Bairstow and Shikhar Dhawan had given PBKS a flying start before the former was dismissed. Dhawan and Liam Livingstone then put PBKS back in the contest before Jitesh Sharma also took the game to the SRH bowlers.

Earlier, Harpreet Brar and Nathan Ellis starred with the ball as PBKS restricted SRH to a total of 157 for eight. After opting to bat, SRH lost the wicket of Priyam Garg early. Abhishek Sharma and Rahul Tripathi then steadied their ship, adding 47 runs for the second wicket. However, both batter were dismissed in quick succession as PBKS pegged SRH back. SRH were reeling at 96 for five at one stage before Romario Shepherd and Washington Sundar provided them with some much-needed impetus.
